4. Our basis for processing personal data and the purposes for which we use it

Performance of contracts. The LTA will process your personal data where this is necessary for the performance of a contract with you, or to take steps at your request before entering into such a contract. For example, we need to process personal data in order to comply with any terms and conditions (including of any membership scheme; for the purchase of products or services, including tickets; and those applicable to the use of our website and the LTA Play Tennis app), and with funding and player support agreements.

Compliance with our legal obligations. In some cases, the LTA needs to process your personal data in order to comply with its legal obligations. For example, we need to process personal data in order to comply with health and safety legislation, carry out DBS (criminal records) checks on coaches, officials and volunteer roles (where relevant) for safeguarding purposes, report certain tax information about our financial arrangements with third parties to HM Revenue & Customs and assist with investigations by police and/or other competent authorities.

Legitimate interests. In other cases, the LTA has 'legitimate interests' in processing personal information about individuals we interact with. We have many such interests, including commercial interests and those with a wider public benefit. In essence, our principal legitimate interests are in pursuing our mission of opening tennis up to a wider range of participants and administering British tennis in a way that promotes and safeguards the integrity of the sport. For example, we need to process personal data in pursuit of our legitimate interests such as:

- Sports governance and administration. In particular to:
 - (i) organise competitions, tournaments and major events;
 - (ii) process and publish results, ratings and rankings data from competitions, including disciplinary data, records of code violations and immediate defaults, match results including disqualifications and suspensions, and other personal data which is necessary for the LTA to be a central repository of match results across British tennis (and to publish information in respect of LTA registered players on the “Find a Player” tool on the LTA website and in the LTA Play Tennis app, which links to these kinds of results, ratings and rankings data);
 - (iii) assess attendance at LTA sessions and courses (via ClubSpark) as part of a recognition scheme to reward attendance;
 - (iv) communicate with coaches in relation to training courses they have booked, including any changes to course dates or times;
 - (v) process queries, complaints or other information received by the LTA;
 - (vi) keep appropriate records of individuals associated with the LTA, including LTA account holders (including members), players, coaches, officials, volunteers and Designated Role Holders;
 - (vii) administer and undertake disciplinary, safeguarding, licensing, accreditation, anti-corruption, anti-doping and other regulatory and governance functions (including exercising any right, power or authority in terms of the LTA Competition Regulations or the LTA Disciplinary Code), including any review, process and/or other involvement by the Designated Role Holders, and keep records in relation to or connection with the same, including of any decisions made in respect of these functions;

- (viii) administer our performance programme (for example, monitor player progress or make player selection decisions);
 - (ix) oversee the operation of miscellaneous LTA initiatives such as prize draw competitions, awards and recognition of service/contribution (for example the colour holders scheme and the LTA Tennis Awards); and
 - (x) structure the LTA with a 'head office' at the National Tennis Centre and some regional offices and/or centres throughout Great Britain, including at Nottingham Tennis Centre, storing most personal data centrally and making use of certain software and/or cloud storage providers for the purposes of efficient, fast and secure access to personal data.
- Marketing. To market the LTA's products and services (including tickets, performance and participation programmes, coaching courses and events), and promote tennis and padel across Britain more generally;
 - Security. To ensure the security of LTA events and premises, including by recording individuals' photographs and processing personal details as part of event accreditation processes and capturing individuals' images using CCTV monitoring (and by use of an app-based access control system at the National Tennis Centre);
 - Use of images. To support and promote the LTA's products, services and events by capturing your image (still or moving) onsite at the National Tennis Centre, at Nottingham Tennis Centre, or at other tennis centres managed by the LTA, and/or at LTA competitions or events, for example if you are a player who takes part in a personal appearance at an LTA tournament or other event or if you appear in a crowd at an LTA tournament or other event. If you object to your or your child's image being captured, the LTA will, to the extent possible, and provided there is no compelling legitimate ground for obtaining or retaining it: (i) attempt to avoid photographing or videoing you or your child; and (ii) on request delete images which have not already been disseminated;
 - LTA account management. To create profiles by analysing personal LTA account holders' data as captured at account creation and/or membership sign-up (which may include, for example, questions about how frequently you play or engage in tennis), and by analysing the data of LTA account holders via interactions with the LTA (including on our website and the LTA Play Tennis app), brand communications and from third party data enrichment and social media providers by building segments (i.e. groups that have certain common characteristics) and by placing you in one or more segments. These segments will be used by the LTA to tailor, as relevant, your LTA account dashboard and the communications we send, and to provide you with information about products and services which you may be most interested in;
 - Social media outreach. (i) To tailor the advertisements you see on your Facebook and other social media platforms so that they are relevant to what the LTA knows about your tennis related interests, and (ii) identifying individuals (known as 'lookalikes') via social media who share similar characteristics and interests to the LTA's own members but who are not currently members of the LTA, in order to encourage them to become LTA members; and/or
 - Research and analysis. To undertake analysis and research to gain insight into the backgrounds and motivations of people interested in tennis, and to improve the LTA's products and services; and further to conduct research and statistical analysis for those already involved in tennis (for example into volunteering practices and patterns, coach engagement, and personalised membership communications).

Where the LTA relies on legitimate interests as the legal basis for processing personal data, it has considered whether or not those interests are overridden by the interests or fundamental rights or freedoms of the individuals whose data are being processed and concluded that the processing is, on balance, fair.

Consent. The LTA may also process your personal data on the basis of consent you give, for example to send you certain direct marketing communications, or to place certain 'cookies' on your computer or other device when you use our website (please see our Cookies Policy for more information about this). We will also sometimes seek or require your explicit consent where processing special categories of data: see below.

Processing special categories of data

Where we process sensitive personal data (namely personal data which is either defined as special category or criminal records data within the meaning of UK GDPR), other legal bases for processing may apply, including:

- where our processing is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims (for example, to protect and/or defend our property or rights, or those of other British tennis stakeholders);
- for reasons of substantial public interest, for example:
 - (i) to conduct safeguarding investigations and hearings, and other hearings (such as coach licensing and disciplinary hearings) designed to protect the public;
 - (ii) to share information that may be relevant to safeguarding, whether with relevant authorities or to individuals or establishments within tennis or more widely as deemed appropriate for the overriding objective of creating safe environments (see further below);
 - (iii) to publish information in respect of LTA accredited coaches on the "Find a Coach" tool on the LTA website as to whether they are accredited to work with children and/or adults, for the purposes of safeguarding children and adults at risk);
 - (iv) for protecting the integrity of sport and sporting events, including anti-doping measures and all related information sharing and recording; and/or
 - (v) for archiving, research and statistical purposes in the public interest.
- for the provision of medical care and treatment under the supervision of qualified professionals, and (where applicable) for maintaining insurance policies in respect of the same for LTA-supported players;
- for the purposes of protecting public and individual health in accordance with Government guidance relevant at the time; and/or
- where you have otherwise given us your explicit consent; for example, to:
 - (i) allow the use of performance players' medical records for performance monitoring purposes, as well as for the administration and delivery of funding or other support from the LTA; or
 - (ii) to share those records with another tennis organisation; or
 - (iii) where coaches or officials provide us with data relating to criminal convictions and offences as part of the DBS disclosure process.

Equality of opportunity or treatment. In particular, we may process data revealing racial or ethnic origin, religious or philosophical beliefs, data concerning health, gender identity information, and/or sexual orientation information ("diversity data") for the purposes of assessing, monitoring and taking steps to improve and promote diversity and inclusion in tennis, as well as for responding to and monitoring any allegations of discrimination. Where we collect diversity data from you, we will endeavour to explain why we are doing so, and will make sure that this sensitive personal data is never used to make decisions about you in particular, or in any other way that could cause you serious distress. You are encouraged to contact us to update your diversity data to ensure it is accurate, and you can always ask us to stop processing your diversity data and we will do so within a reasonable time. All diversity data is held securely on the LTA's systems and will typically only be used in an aggregated form which makes it impossible to identify any particular individual. Diversity data when suitably aggregated / anonymised will be retained for so long as it is necessary to inform the LTA's diversity and inclusion strategies. Any diversity data that identifies you specifically may be retained for so long as you are involved with British tennis, and for a reasonable time afterwards.

Retention of sensitive personal data. The LTA will only retain sensitive personal data for as long as it remains necessary for the lawful purpose for which it was recorded (which may be for long periods in the case of safeguarding or legal claims data), but it may continue to use data collected for these purposes (pseudonymised or aggregated where appropriate) to conduct research and statistical analysis, for example about player performance.

On the limited occasions when this does occur (for example, because your personal data is stored on an IT system hosted outside of the UK or the EEA), we ensure that any such transfer meets the requirements of the UK GDPR, which may include ensuring that the transfer is subject to appropriate safeguards such as the International Data Transfer Agreement as approved by the UK Secretary of State. Where we make more regular and/or larger scale transfers of personal data outside the UK or the EEA, we will assess the adequacy of the protections in place for that data to ensure the transfers are lawful. You can obtain more details of the protection given to your personal data when it is transferred outside the UK or the EEA by contacting us using the details below.

6. How long we will store your data

We may retain your personal data for as long as is necessary to fulfil the purposes set out in this privacy policy and/or the LTA's reasonable requirements. On expiry of the relevant retention period, your personal data will be deleted, suppressed or anonymised, as applicable, save that we will retain comprehensive details of player rankings, ratings and results for archiving purposes in the public interest, or historical or statistical purposes, bearing in mind our role as the national governing body for British tennis.

We may retain recordings or transcripts of disciplinary, safeguarding and other hearings. We may also retain a safeguarding related 'flag' on our internal records (which is only visible to certain members of staff on a 'need-to-know' basis) which indicates when an individual has been involved in a safeguarding incident, regardless of the outcome. The content of your DBS results will not be stored (absent an overriding legal reason to retain), but we will record the fact of a DBS check being carried out at the correct level and the action taken (including any restrictions placed on your playing, coaching or officiating).

- where our processing is based on your consent, withdraw that consent, without affecting the lawfulness of our processing based on consent before its withdrawal.

If you would like to exercise any of these rights, please contact us in writing using the contact details below. Please note that these rights are not absolute and we may be entitled (or required) to refuse requests where exceptions apply.

If you are not satisfied with how we are processing your personal data, you can complain to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO). You can also find out more about your rights under the UK GDPR (and other data protection legislation) from the Information Commissioner's Office website available at: www.ico.org.uk.

8. If you do not provide personal data

In some cases described above, the provision of personal data is a contractual requirement, and/or a statutory requirement if you wish to engage with the LTA in a certain way (for example, where you wish to work as an LTA coach or official, and there is a statutory requirement for us to carry out a criminal records check on you, for safeguarding purposes; or if you are supported by the LTA as a player, we may need certain performance, illness and injury information from you). In those and other cases, if you do not provide us with certain personal data, by consent or otherwise, we may not be able to work with you or provide our products or services to you (as applicable), or it may adversely affect the provision of our services to you.
